

DZIUBAS Józef (1856-1937), entrepreneur, Chassid. He was born on 2nd March 1856 in Złoczewo, the son of Izrael and Rywka Szajndla née Goldberg.

Initially, he lived in Żarki where, in 1877, he also married. Circa 1888, he came to Częstochowa with his family. He was co-owner (with Chaskiel Fiszel) of a soap factory located at ul. Nadrzeczna 40/42 (the factory was established in 1879) and of the property at ul. Nadrzeczna 38, as well as the tenement at II Aleja 38 (acquired from the Gornig family in 1917). In 1925, the company carried the name "The United Soap Manufacturers Dziubas, Fiszel and Company". In 1939, the factory belonged to the Częstochowa branch of the Bank Handlowy in Warsaw. In 1920, during the Polish-Bolshevik War, Dziubas donated 500 Polish marks to the Committee to Aid Polish Soldiers (the Committee was active in the Jewish Community Council).

On 21st September 1937, he died at his home at ul. Katedralna 15 in Częstochowa. He was buried in the Jewish cemetery, next to the grave of the → Tzaddik Pinkus Mendel Justman (grave No. 1767 I).

His wife was Estera Fajgla née Szybel (10th August 1849 Żarki-), the daughter of Izrael and Rywka née Wildfogel, aka Kestenberga. In 1942, she died in her sleep and was buried next to her husband. They had five children:

- Majtla (22nd January 1878 Żarki-), married Abram Henoach Finkelsztajn (13th August 1876 Łódź – August ? 1937 Częstochowa), a chemist, working in the soap factory,
- Sura (22nd January 1878 Żarki),
- Symcha (13th August 1880 Żarki),
- Laja (15th June 1884 Żarki), and
- Paulina Pessa (16th January 1889 Częstochowa), married Abram Herc Horowicz (5th November 1879 Piotrków).
