

GLATTER Leon Lajzer (1910-1945), doctor. He was born on 17th July 1910 in Częstochowa, the son of Icyk and Sura (who lived at I Aleja 12 in Częstochowa).

In 1928, he graduated from the H. Sienkiewicz I State Gimnazjum in Częstochowa and, in 1937, studied medicine in Paris. He gained his medical diploma in Wilno. He worked, as a surgeon, at the Blessed Virgin Mary Hospital in Częstochowa. He lived at II Aleja 32.

In 1941, he was forced to move into the Częstochowa ghetto. At the end of 1944, he was imprisoned in the German HASAG camp in Huta Raków in Częstochowa. As a camp doctor, he put a great deal of effort into helping his patients. In January 1945, he was transported to Germany together with other camp prisoners. (According to another version, he was murdered in the camp.)

Gliński, Słownik lekarzy i farmaceutów, vol. III, p. 81; Sienkiewiczacy, p. 232; Wyględowski, Chirurgia, p. 206. - "Częstochower Cajtung" 1937, No. 33, p. 6. - APCz, MagCz 5503, Unit No. 1, ref. 8849, No. 368.

Juliusz Sętowski