

KANTOR Lewek (1788–1867?), synagogue singer. In an 1821 document, he appears as a cantor in a Częstochowa synagogue.

At the time, he had the patronymic of “Abramowicz” (he was the son of Abram). It was not until the end of the 1820s that his name Kantor became established.

His wife was Sura née Szaj, later referred to in documents as Sura née Goldwasser (1808-1884).

State Archives Częstochowa, marriage record No. 47/1821; death record No. 37/1827; death record No. 39/1867; death record No. 134/1884.
