

MEJERSOHN (MEYERSON, MAJERZON) Mojżesz (circa 1839-1905), teacher, court defender. He was the son of Pinkus and Chaja née Mendys, born in Ostrog.

He graduated from the education department of the Rabbinical School in Żytomierz, which permitted him to teach at the highest level of government Jewish schools. He taught in Warsaw. From January 1867, he was a Jewish religion teacher at a special district school in Częstochowa. From 1867 to 1868, he taught at the Russian Classical Boys Pro-Gimnazjum in Częstochowa. In 1868–1904, he taught at the local government Boys' Gimnazjum (formed from the Classical Boys Pro-Gimnazjum). In 1902, he was a court defender at the Congress of Justices of the Peace of the 2nd Piotrków District.

He died on 25th February 1905 in Częstochowa and was buried in the local Jewish cemetery (grave No. 351 II).

On 15th September 1870, in Będzin, he married Zofia née Brandys (16th October 1848 Żarki-), the daughter of Michał and Jacheta née Hirszberg. They had six children:

- Aleksander (19th July 1876 Częstochowa-), who was a teacher in Częstochowa,
- Karol (25th July 1879 Częstochowa-),
- Henryk (24th August 1881 Częstochowa-), a merchant who, before World War II, lived in Berlin and who perished in the Sachsenhaus concentration camp,
- Hieronim (30th October 1882 Częstochowa-),
- Edmund Izidor (19th March 1884 Częstochowa-), who was a lawyer in Łódź, and daughter
- Sabina (18th July 1886 Częstochowa-).
