

The Book Committee

Dr Józef Russ

Dr Józef Russ, the son of the well-known Częstochowa resident Reb Isser Russ, died in Częstochowa in very old age.

The deceased was one of the first Jewish doctors in town. He practiced in Częstochowa for around sixty years. He had studied in cheders in his youth and he always mentioned his old melamdim.

A very large crowd attended his funeral and Dr Arnold Bram eulogised him by the open grave. He spoke of his conduct in general and particularly of his treatment of underprivileged patients.